

CONTRACTS & PURCHASE CONSUMABLES

GENERAL CONDITIONS

- 1 Unless this Company is advised to the contrary on the day of receipt of this contract, it will be assumed that it is in order
- 2 This contract is made subject to strikes, lockouts, trade disputes, fire, war or any other events beyond the control of this Company and whether in the establishment of this Company or otherwise which may prevent it's fulfilment in which case deliveries may be wholly or partially suspended and the time of delivery be extended by this Company without any claim against it.
- 3 No terms of condition shall have reference to this transaction other than these general conditions and any special terms and conditions contained in this contract or to which the Company has otherwise specifically agreed in writing and any terms which are implied by the virtue of the Sales of Goods Act 1893 which are necessary to give this contract business efficiency.
- 4 Unless otherwise agreed theses conditions and this contract shall be subject to and construed exclusively in accordance with English Law.
- 5 The Seller undertakes that he has disclosed to the Buyer any information or requirements affecting the buyer under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, and notwithstanding such disclosure, the seller undertakes that any written information supplied pursuant to the said Act has been delivered to the Buyer's Office with whom the Seller is dealing.